Motor companies should be required to test their vehicals in every common crash sinaro and should make their vehicals as safe as possible for all involved in a crash. Because these thest are costly most companies will only do them if they are required.